

Environmental Policy

General Mission

As a company and as a team of people, the Antalis group is committed to integrating responsible environmental management throughout our range of business activities and aim to implement and maintain the appropriate environmental management systems.

Key Priorities

- Communicate the environmental policy to all Antalis group employees and on request
- Ensure all colleagues are aware of this policy and provide them with the appropriate level of information, training and support
- To comply with the applicable environmental laws and regulations and other commitments to which the company adheres to
- Seek to improve energy efficiency in all areas of our business, and measure, monitor and ultimately aim to reduce the direct carbon emissions created within our businesses
- Aim to reduce, reuse and recycle materials wherever practical and try to take steps to reduce pollution and use resources as efficiently as possible
- Request, review and maintain environmental information & data on our products
- Develop our product ranges, processes and working practices to continually improve our overall environmental performance
